LIBRARY

REPORT OF ANDREW KEOGH, Librarian.

To the President and Fellows of Yale University:

GENTLEMEN:

I HAVE the honor to report on the work of the University Library during the academic year 1923-24.

THE GROWTH OF THE LIBRARY

THERE were added to the General Library during the year 41,237 volumes, of which 14,128 came by gift, 17,929 by purchase, and 9,180 by exchange. There were also 3,031 pamphlets received by gift and 73 by exchange. Compared with last year the figures show an increase in the number of volumes purchased, and a decrease in the number of gifts and exchanges.

GIFTS

The increase in purchases was made possible by gifts for that purpose amounting to more than five thousand dollars. The names of the donors and the amounts of their gifts are recorded in the Treasurer's Report.

Besides the gifts of money, thousands of other additions to our collections were made by hundreds of graduates and other friends of the University, whose names are given in the Appendix. Among the more notable gifts were the Nuremberg Chronicle in the German edition of 1493, from Miss Mary B. Bristol; De Laudibus Beatae Mariae Virginis, Strasbourg, 1493, from Mr. Frank D. McQuesten, ex-1899 Law; The Gospels of Matilda of Tuscany, from Mr. John Pierpont Morgan; the Tomb of Puyemrê at Thebes, from Mrs. Edward J. Tytus; fifty leaves from as many early printed books, and seven recent publications of the Grolier Club, from Mr. Frank Altschul, B.A. 1908; seven early Indian deeds relating to Indian Neck, from Mr. Almer M. Newhall, B.A. 1903; eighteen volumes of the works of her son, Walther Rathenau, from Mrs. Emil Rathenau; Violet Oakley's Holy Experiment, from five Philadelphia alumni; ten copies of his Economic Problems of Democracy, for exchange purposes, from President Hadley; seventeen volumes of the publications of the firm of Henry Holt and Company, from Henry Holt, B.A. 1862; the Paris, 1500, edition of Richard de Bury's Philobiblon, from Mr. Edward Bement, B.A. 1870, completing the collection of early editions of that work made by Hamilton Cole, B.A. 1866, and given by Mr. Bement some years ago; the privately printed catalogue of autograph poems and letters of Burns in the collection of Mr. R. B. Adam, of Buffalo, sent by Mr. Adam; biographical notes on Lloyd Mifflin, and a portrait of the poet by Kirkpatrick, from Dr. Houston Mifflin; a hundred early works on the nose, throat, and ear from Dr. D. Bryson Delavan, B.A. 1872; over one hundred and twenty-five eighteenth century books and pamphlets supplementary to his well-known Fielding Collection, from Mr. Frederick S. Dickson, Ph.B. 1871; two hundred volumes from Mrs. John R. Reyburn and her brother, William Darius Bishop, B.A. 1911, from the library of their grandfather, the Honorable Elihu B. Washburn, U. S. Minister to France, 1869-1877; three hundred volumes on early electric railroading and local history, from the late Nathan Easterbrook; over three hundred volumes, including more than one hundred on French social history, from Mr. James Hillhouse, B.A. 1875; over eight hundred volumes, chiefly on education and political questions, from Mr. George L. Fox, B.A. 1874. Mrs. Henry Crosby Emery gave, from the library of her husband, the late Professor Emery, over eight hundred books, seven hundred volumes of serials and pamphlets on economics, and several hundred reports and other publications in connection with the United States Tariff Board, of which he was Chairman, 1909-1913. Professor Edward S. Dana, B.A. 1870, gave sixty-three letters to his father, James Dwight Dana, and over two hundred and fifty to Benjamin Silliman. Mr. Charles B. Whittelsey and his son, Charles B. Whittelsey, Jr., Ph.B. 1921, gave their collection of war posters numbering about 1400 pieces.

Two new funds for the purchase of books were established during the year. The first, of at least one thousand dollars, came from Mr. Eugene A. Bournique, of Chicago, in memory of his son, Joy Curtis Bournique, of the Class of 1918. The second, of five thousand dollars, came from Mr. Samuel A. York, B.A. 1890, as a memorial to his father, Samuel Amos York, B.A. 1863. Funds like these are welcome additions to the Library's endowment. They lend themselves perfectly to the development of the Library's scholarly resources, either in general literature or in any field of particular interest to the donor or to the person memorialized. The Library administers such funds with scrupulous attention to the deed of gift, and inserts an appropriate bookplate in every book purchased from the income.

To the Penniman Memorial Library Dr. James Hosmer Penniman gave all the books and periodicals on education requested of him during the year, and sent many others from his own shelves, including manuscript notes of sermons by the Reverend Timothy Edwards; Daniel Gookin's copy of Milton's Artis Logicae, 1672; Paracelsus, De natura rerum, Strasbourg, 1584; Joseph Champion, The Parallel, London, 1750; and two rare Rousseau pamphlets.

For the William A. Speck Collection of Classical German Literature valuable books and other literary material were received from the Misses Emily, Florence, and Katharine Brandegee, Professors Albert S. Cook, Hollon A. Farr, Gustav Gruener, Anton Kippenberg, E. H. Mensel, and Otto Manthey-Zorn, the Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Messrs Gustav Fock and Edward L. Glaser, and Dr. George Kartzke. Professor Farr gave also a pair of fine bronze plaquettes of Goethe and Schiller.

For the collection of Yale Memorabilia several interesting and well-preserved collections of photographs or autographs were received, including those of the Classes of 1822, 1826, 1828, 1844, 1852, 1857, 1858, 1872, 1880, 1881, 1886, 1889, and 1896. Mr. Franklin Roosevelt gave a manuscript album of Augustus R. Macdonough, B.A. 1839; Mrs. H. M. Witter gave an assent to religious tests required of John Witter, B.A. 1812, when he became Tutor in 1815; Mr. Francis P. Garvan, B.A. 1897, gave three copies of John Russell Pope's Yale University, privately printed in 1919; Professor Gregory gave a water color of the Old Library and Alumni Hall; and Mr. George Dudley Seymour, M.A. Hon. 1913, gave a lithograph portrait of Provost Graves, from a painting by Cecilia Beaux, a portrait of Thomas Youngs Seymour, B.A. 1777, enlarged from a miniature by Colonel John Trumbull, and an engraved portrait of the Rev. Henry Caner, B.A. 1724, after Smibert.

To the numismatic collection Mrs. Frits Holm gave a medal commemorating the Holm-Nestorian expedition into north-west China; Mr. Charles P. Howland, B.A. 1891, gave a copy of the Howland Memorial Medal; and Mr. John H. Webster, B.A. 1868, gave forty-eight coins, mostly American, and all in fine condition.

PURCHASES

The increase in the money available for books, partly through the larger appropriation from University funds, and partly from the gifts of money reported above, not only allowed a somewhat freer expenditure upon normal needs and opportunities, but permitted the making of a number of important particular purchases. The most notable are perhaps the completion (1883 to date) of our file of the very expensive German publication Paleontologica, and the purchase of a set of Litta's Famiglie Celebre, which began to be issued in 1819 and is still in progress, and which is one of the outstanding Italian historical publications in the nineteenth century.

An important part of the year's work has been the bringing to date of a large number of valuable sets of which nothing has been received for periods varying from fifteen to twenty, or sometimes thirty, years. Among these files may be mentioned the publications of the Belgian Historical Commission, of the Historisch Genootschap te Utrecht, and the monumental history of Paris published by the municipality.

Taking advantage of the favorable French exchange we have added to the Linonian and Brothers Library about one hundred and fifty recent French works in rather good editions and bindings, and for the main library we purchased complete files of important serials such as the Revue de Gascogne, the Annales de Bretagne, the Bulletin of the Société Archeologique du Limousin, the publications of the Société des Archives Historiques du Limousin, the Mémoires of the Société des Antiquaires de la Morinie, the Revue de l'Agennais, the Bulletin of the École Française d'extrême Orient, the Bulletin of the Société des Sciences et des Arts de Bayonne, the Revue générale des Chemins de Fer, and Le Correspondant.

Typical English purchases are complete sets of the publications of the British Government's Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, and of the publications of the Worcestershire Historical Society.

EXCHANGES

During the year four shipments totaling eighteen cases have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution. These contained 1,297 packages addressed to foreign libraries and learned societies.

This distribution, as heretofore, included publications of the Yale University Press and of the Connecticut Academy, as well as Yale doctoral dissertations printed during the year. Two of the dissertations were published in the Yale Studies in English and two in the Yale Historical Publications. Twenty-three others were issued in abstract as reprints from the American Journal of Science and other periodicals.

About fifteen of the publications of the Press were taken in quantities of twenty-five or fifty copies for distribution. Odd copies of several others were sent to various libraries to which we were especially indebted, e.g., The League of Nations, the Danzig Stadtbibliothek, and Aarhus (Denmark) Statsbiblioteket. Of Hadamard's Silliman lectures we received one hundred and twenty-five copies for distribution, and in June the Press sent us six copies of each of the Dodge and the Silliman lectures to distribute among Japanese libraries.

Correspondence with several European libraries has resulted in our securing on exchange a considerable number of books published in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries which those libraries had among their duplicates. Other items out of the run of our usual exchanges have been secured through newly organized offices of exchange, such as the Hungarian Libraries Board and the Exchange Bureau in the Polish Department of Foreign Affairs.

Numerous gaps in our files of publications of learned societies received through the Connecticut Academy have been filled as the result of requests sent out somewhat more systematically than for several years back.

The German universities are still publishing and sending most of their theses in abstract only. A French university shipment received in January included more than 3,100 theses, most of which were medical and legal.

During the year an appeal was received from the Imperial University of Tokyo for help in restoring its library, destroyed in the recent earthquake. To that library, and to other Japanese libraries destroyed or damaged by earthquake or fire, we sent 2,450 volumes from our duplicates, and added 431 volumes sent in by our Faculty, our student body, and our alumni.

BINDING

THE eleven thousand dollars spent on binding during the year was the largest amount used for that purpose in any year in the history of the Library. The resulting benefit to readers and to the staff is most gratifying, and we plan to continue at something like this rate until arrears are cleared away.

THE CLASSIFICATION AND CATALOGUING OF THE COLLECTIONS

THE main effort of the cataloguers was directed towards the classification and cataloguing of current accessions. In hitherto uncatalogued sections special attention was given to the remainder of old material in Technology; to Russian, where 2,802 volumes were catalogued during the year; and to Judaica, where all the books given by Dr. Kohut are now classed and catalogued except those in Hebrew. The work in these sections will be pushed during the coming year.

The number of monographs and pamphlets catalogued were 28,295, represented by 23,700 main entries and 82,448 cards. The number of volumes of serials catalogued was 20,940.

The figures given above are for the General Library only, and take no account of cataloguing done in the Departmental Libraries. Current accessions of eight of these outside libraries have been catalogued by the staff of the General Library during the year, the number of volumes so treated being 938. On the other hand, we have received 6,738 cards from six outside libraries for insertion in the general union catalogue.

During the year Professor Baur and Mr. Bellinger have spent a considerable amount of time in the arrangement of our coins, more particularly those of classical times. For this the Library is most grateful.

THE USE MADE OF THE LIBRARY

WHILE statistics have not been kept of the reference use of books, it is certain that it has greatly increased during the year. The demands upon the reference staff and the staff at the desks were unprecedented.

Five thousand four hundred and thirty-three books were reserved on special shelves for general class use, and the number of issues was 60,285.

The number of volumes issued for home reading was 34,670 from the General Library, and 23,122 from Linonian and Brothers. These totals show an increase of 7,023 and 1,862 respectively.

The use of the Andrews Memorial Library has also increased, both in the number of users and in the number of books borrowed. The figures for the year are 362 borrowers with 2,660 books charged against them, as compared with 291 borrowers and 2,125 issues last year.

EXHIBITIONS

ON November 8, the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the entering of the First Folio in the Stationers' Register, a Shakespeare Exhibition was held in the Elizabethan Club, and the rare folios and quartos were shown in the Chittenden Reading Room during the succeeding fortnight.

In April the Byron centenary was commemorated by an exhibition of first editions of Byron's works, some of them from the library of Professor Tinker. The Speck Collection supplied autograph letters and other personal memorabilia of the poet.

On Alumni Day, and again at the Commencement period, there was held an exhibition illustrating the history of the University Library, including books given by early donors, pictures of all the Library buildings, and early manuscript and printed catalogues of Yale's books.

An exhibition of the writings of the Classes holding fiftieth and twenty-fifth reunions was also held at Commencement.

As the Library had insufficient wall space to show any of the Whittelsey war posters, a selection from them was shown in the School of the Fine Arts in May and June.

PUBLICATIONS

THE only publication of the year was a pamphlet entitled: "The Best Hundred Books on China; A Finding List of Books in English Selected and Annotated by Frederick Wells Williams, Assistant Professor of Modern Oriental History, Yale University, and the Rev. Frank W. Price, Associate Professor of Religious Education, Union Theological Seminary, Nanking," printed by the Yale University Press.

ADMINISTRATION

ALTHOUGH the Library started the year with all its bills paid, and got an appropriation for books and binding larger than in 1922-23 by $10,700, the amount available for books was so small that it was decided to make an appeal to the alumni for book funds. On Alumni Day, therefore, Professor Tinker spoke to the assembled graduates on "The University Library," urging its present and future needs. The address aroused great interest, and its influence was widened when Mr. Otto Bannard printed it for the alumni. The resulting gifts of money for books are without question merely the beginning of a stream. At the Commencement luncheon Dean Kittredge spoke on the same theme, and prophesied that the Sterling Memorial Library would bring to Yale great gifts of books and of money to administer them, just as the Widener Library brought gifts to Harvard.

THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Professors Corbin and Tinker were reappointed as members of the Library Committee, and Professor Sheldon was appointed a member for one year, during Dean Angier's absence.

STAFF

Changes in the staff included the resignations of Miss Dorothy McVickar, who left to go to the Yale Press in New York; of Miss Sarah Ford Barry; of Miss Ruth C. Gillespie, who went for a year's study at the University of Madrid; and of Miss C. Marguerite Hull.

The new appointments included Miss Jane W. Hill, B.A. Goucher College, who came from the Johns Hopkins Library; Mr. Harry Poole, Ph.B. 1919; Leon Nemoy, from the University Libraries at Odessa and Lemberg; and Miss Helen E. Kroenke.

STERLING MEMORIAL LIBRARY

THE Sterling Trustees appointed the talented Mr. Bertram Goodhue architect of the Sterling Memorial Library, but when he died on April 23, 1924, he had submitted only a tentative sketch plan of the first and second floors of the proposed building, on an imaginary site, prepared for the purpose of indicating the area necessary to meet the requirements of the draft program. Mr. James Gamble Rogers succeeds him as architect of the Sterling Library, and in addition to his own staff has five students from the Yale School of the Fine Arts working enthusiastically on plans for the new building. In the meantime the Library Committee is amplifying the program as to details.

CONCLUSION

I CANNOT close this report without expressing my appreciation of the constant interest shown by the Library Committee in the problems of the Library, and my gratitude for the spirit of coöperation shown by the staff under all sorts of inconvenience.

The lists of donors to the General Library and to the Library of the School of Law will be found on pages 15-23.

ANDREW KEOGH

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN OF THE SCHOOL OF LAW

I HAVE the honor to present herewith my annual report as Librarian of the School of Law and Curator of the Wheeler Collection for the year 1923-24:

CATALOGUING AND CLASSIFICATION

IN addition to the current material, which has become heavier with each year, certain small sections of the Library not yet catalogued, such as constitutional conventions and city charters, have been begun. A beginning has also been made on recataloguing the statutes, session laws, state reports, and digests as time permitted. A large collection of French theses, which have accumulated since 1915, have also been catalogued.

ACCESSIONS

THE effort to secure for the Library the most representative material in foreign countries has been pursued during the year, so that we now probably have the essentials of a working library of Comparative Law. A special effort was made during the year, with some success, to fill in the many gaps in our foreign law periodicals.

The effort to obtain a second set of the state reports for a special faculty library has met with some initial success, and it is hoped that during the year it may be carried to completion. The plan developed has been to obtain the aid of the Yale Law School Association to contribute to the second set of state reports the set covering the respective states in which the alumni live or practice. By this method we have obtained the very valuable collection of Pennsylvania reports consisting of 571 volumes, the gift of Mr. John A. Hooper, of the Class of 1891 Law, and the gift of the Illinois reports from the widow of Mr. Levy Mayer, of the Class of 1876 Law, embracing 558 volumes. The law reports for the state of New Jersey have been promised by Mr. Harold Depew, of the Class of 1906 Law. Mention may be made of the fact that we are obtaining from the New York Court of Appeals the records and briefs in all the cases heard before that court. These have an intrinsic value and will also serve as the experimental material for the brief-making work of the third year.

The gradual growth in the number of volumes in the Library is making an ever greater strain upon our accommodations. The imperative need for a new building, both for classrooms and library space, has been recognized by the University, and we are assured that in the near future a new Law School building will be authorized.

A gift of $25,000 in the will of Mr. Ganson G. Depew, LL.B. 1922, has been increased by an additional $25,000 from the gift of Mr. Ganson Depew, his father. This fund is to be made available for the purchase of books in the Law Library or for the publication of monographs written by members of the Law Faculty.

STATISTICS

DURING the year there have been added to the Library 4,699 volumes, of which 1,904 have been gifts. The growth of the Library during the last ten years is indicated by the following table:

	Wheeler Collection	Entire Law Library
1914-1915	4,734	40,127
1915-1916	4,797	41,507
1916-1917	4,922	42,551
1917-1918	5,516	45,845
1918-1919	5,898	50,357
1919-1920	6,168	60,522
1920-1921	6,676	65,059
1921-1922	7,371	67,902
1922-1923	8,013	72,202
1923-1924	8,788	76,901

The new accessions, together with their respective expenditures, may be divided as follows: from the General, English, and 1896 Funds, 2,020 volumes at a cost of $7,347.63; from the Wheeler Fund, 775 volumes at a cost of $892.90; subscriptions to periodicals, $924.19; binding, $1,282.40; office equipment, supplies, etc., $436.04, making a total expenditure for the year of $10,883.16, including the Wheeler Fund of $892.90.
